

TransForm's 12th Annual Summit

SATURDAY, MAY 16, 2009 • LANEY COLLEGE, OAKLAND

WINDFALL FOR ALL:

Saving Our Economy,
Pocketbooks, and Planet
with World-Class
Public Transportation and Walkable Communities

This year's Summit will focus on the critical role of transportation and land use in the health of our economy, pocketbooks, and planet - and highlight solutions that can help on all three fronts. Over 300 people, from interested residents and community activists to non-profit leaders and policy makers, attend the Summit. Why? Because it's the place to get the knowledge, inspiration, and connections needed to make change in the Bay Area.

Sessions cover topics including: public transportation, housing, walking, bicycling, social justice, health, smart growth, and community planning. There are walking, bicycling, and transit tours in the afternoon, plus a networking hour.
