The Ecology Center Farmers’ Markets are festive, family-friendly, open-air marketplaces where California farmers bring fresh, locally-grown produce and farm-processed foods to sell directly to the public. The markets happen all around the Bay Area and are open every week to bring the freshest produce and other specialty products to your table. The Ecology Center Farmers’ Markets are a part of the Bay Area Market Network, a non-profit coalition of farmers and farmers’ markets that provide a voice for farmers’ markets throughout the Bay Area.
